FOREWORD

Lest we forget . . .

The excitement that bubbled
Before Friday's game,

Teachers so willing
New things to explain,

The chill bumps that came
As we sang the school song,

The testing that always
Seemed somehow too long.

The friends who were true
Through both thick and thin,

The teams that we cheered
Always hoping to win,

The laughs that we shared
About so many things,

The day that the seniors received
Their class rings,

Friendly, dear faces,
Enthusiastic, shining, and bright,

The tears that fell on graduation night.

Should all these things dim
In the future's bright blaze,

Growing so busy, forgetting old days,
This yearbook of memories,

The best, we hope, yet,
Is presented to you . . . Lest we forget.

DEDICATION

Colorado High School seniors are joyful, enthusiastic, co-operative, industrious, and have a loyalty to their Alma Mater that cannot be excelled.

The seniors of the past left behind customs that remain unbroken, memorable gifts for the pleasure of those who follow, and a spirit of mutual development that is the heart and pulse of CHS.

Indeed, the future seniors will be challenged to uphold and maintain the traditions of Colorado High School and challenged to continue to grow mentally, physically, socially, and spiritually, thus graduating fourfold personalities.

The Lone Wolf yearbook staff of 1958 dedicates these pages to the seniors of the past and the future and the present. The staff has preserved in picture the spirit of the present graduating class in work and fun and friendships which will have an everlasting influence on their lives as they pass through the doors for the last time and become a part of the ever-growing number of alumni.

MEMBERS

Dear Students:

It is a real pleasure to bring you greetings through your Lone Wolf Annual for 1957-58. I trust that the participation in the activities depicted on these pages have contributed greatly to your educational welfare. Your dedication to helping make your school serve its purposes more effectively have been an inspiration to me.

For the privilege of sharing with you in these activities, I am indeed grateful.

With all good wishes for the present and the future, I am

TO THE STUDENTS OF COLORADO CITY HIGH SCHOOL

This school year has been most satisfying to me. I feel that we have gone forward in the right direction, and I give credit for this to the splendid cooperation given by the student body, the faculty, and the citizenship of Colorado City in general.

I wish for the outgoing students the very best of luck and success, and hope that those of us who are left behind can continue to strive for a better school.

May the blessings of God be upon each of you.

Sincerely,

Chas. H. Graham

LIBRARY

The purpose of the library is to supply the student body with reference and recreational reading material, both in the field of books and magazines. In the reference field, the library has four sets of encyclopedias of recent publication date and subscriptions to about thirty magazines, most of which are indexed in READER'S GUIDE. In addition, the library has one-volume reference books in several specific subjects. As the library budget is increased, it is the hope of it's staff to expand it in all fields of subject matter.

The Wolverines is an organization whose purpose is to promote school spirit, to serve the community, to encourage higher grade averages, to act as one body and not as a group of individuals.

The membership is limited to Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors. The constitution was drawn up around 1948 and contains 11 articles and 6 amendments.

The first record of the Wolverines is found in the 1927 annual. There were 34 members and 2 cheerleaders. The uniforms typified the dress of the twenties. They wore white, short, pleated skirts with black sweaters pulled down over the waist. They also wore black flats. The dress this year is white sport blouses, black sweaters with a red wolf head on the front, and 6-gored corduroy skirts. The shoes are black and white oxfords with black sox.

The organization was named Wolverines in 1945. Before, they had been called Pep Squad.

LIFE
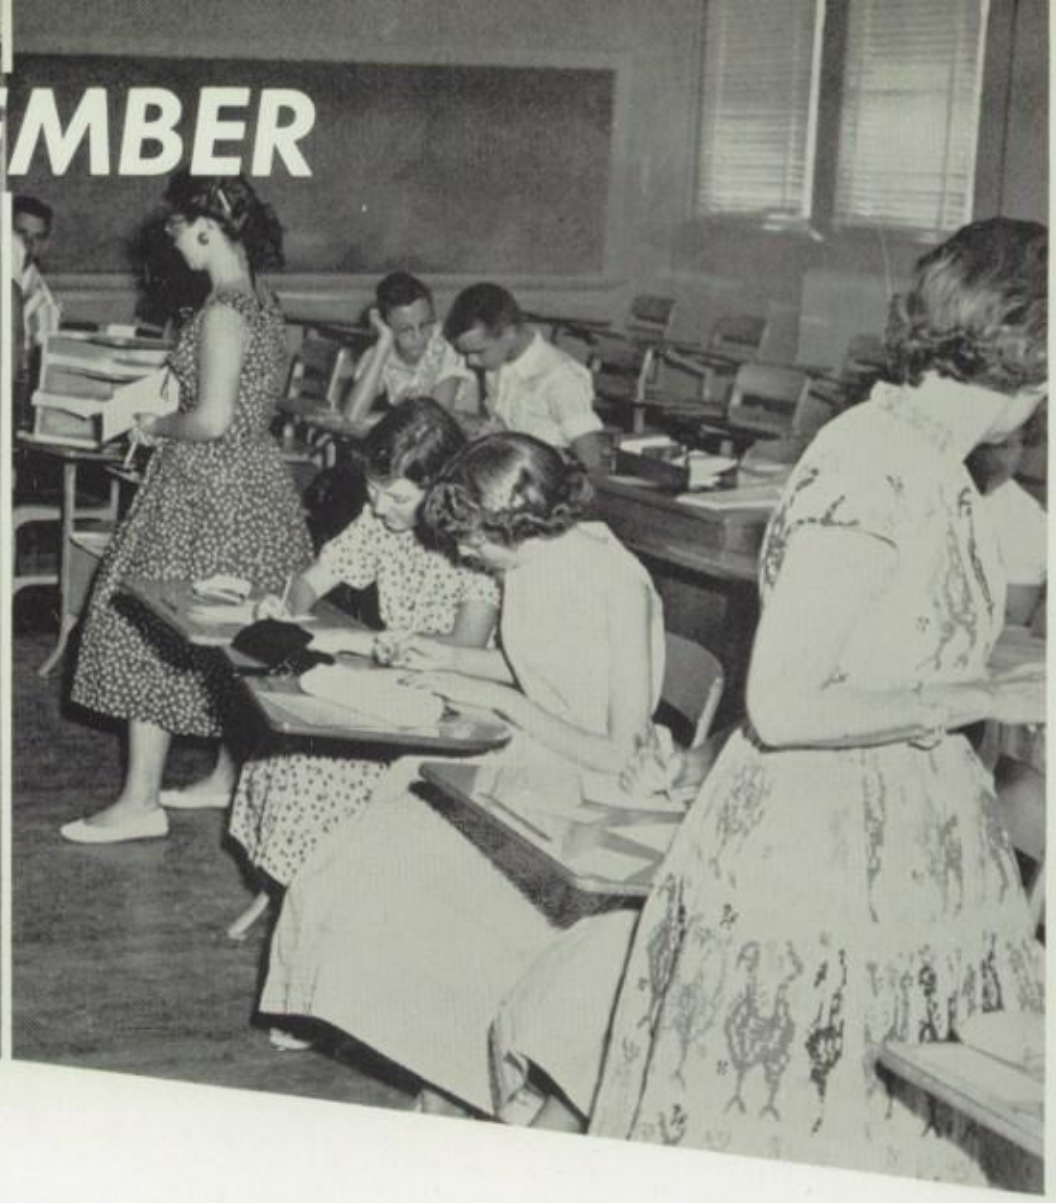
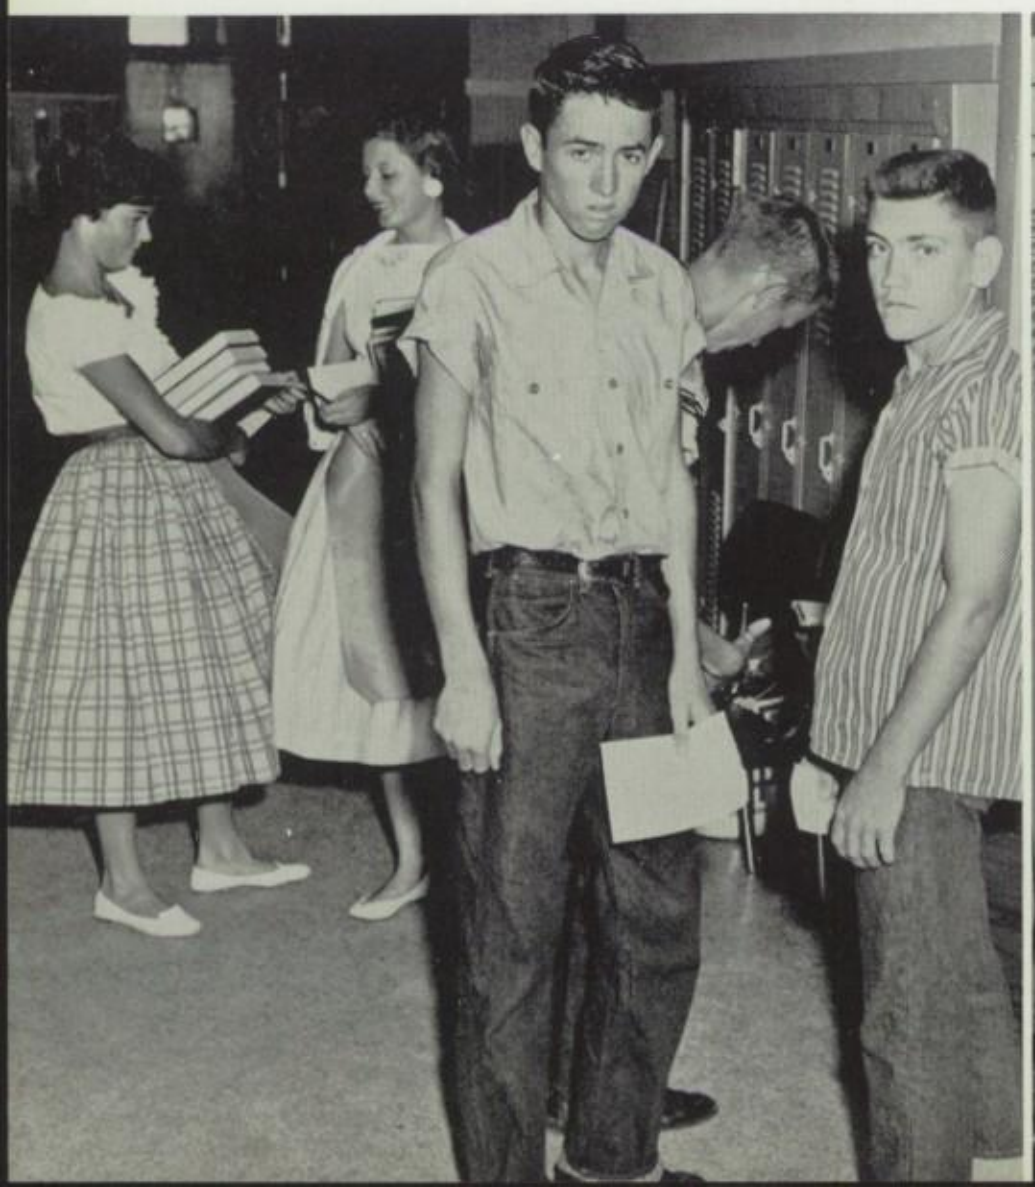
C.H.S.

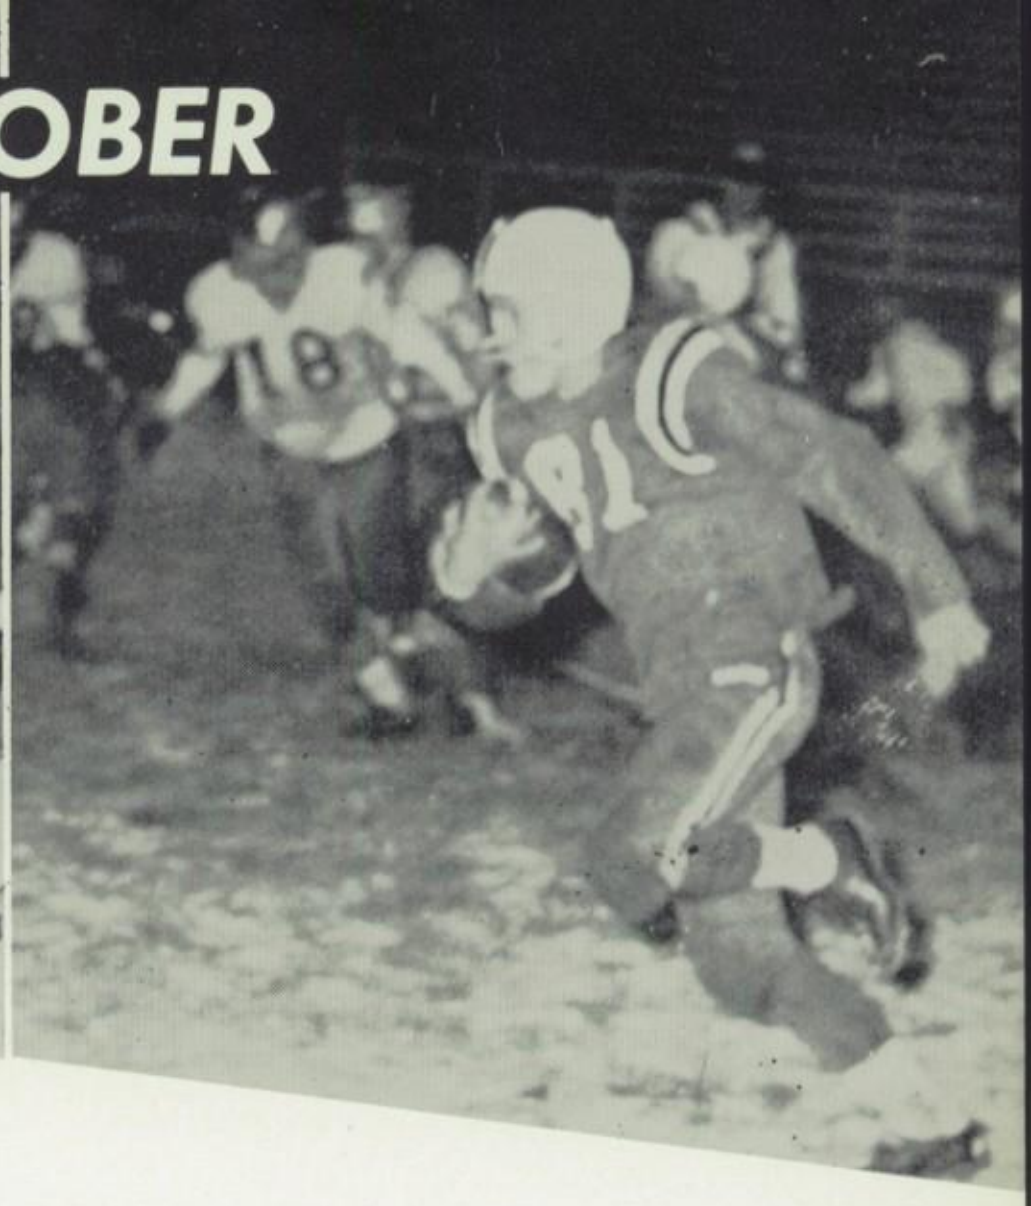
SEPTEMBER



Classes began on September 3, after a three day registration. Students entered high school and proceeded to the study hall where Mr. Teague assisted in registration. Books were obtained and students compared schedules before their new lockers were assigned.



OCTOBER



October is well remembered as a full football month.

The four pictures depict every Friday night's activity, whether at home or away from home.

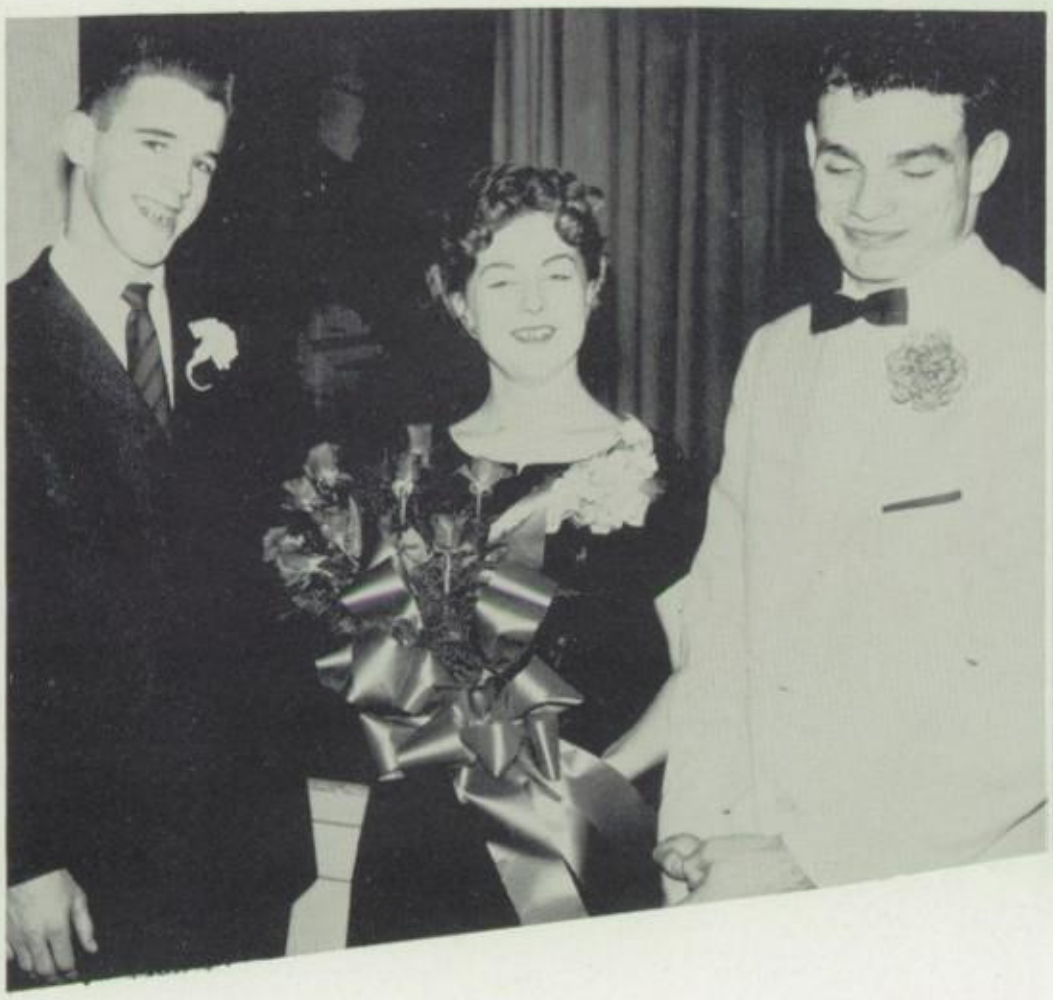
October promised to be a successful month with the Wolves winning all four of their games for that month.

NOVEMBER

November is well remembered for Homecoming activities - decorating the halls and football boys' lockers, building a multitude of floats while school was out for the flu epidemic, the presenting of Annelle Holman as Homecoming queen and the band playing frozen instruments.

Weather or no, the Wolves defeated Lakeview 7 - 0.

DECEMBER



One of the happiest months of the school year was December, the month of the banquet honoring the football boys. The band, Wolverines, and Quarterback members made outstanding decorations - a seven-foot snowman, and miniature snowmen representing each football boy.

One of the outstanding events of the banquet was the presentation of sweethearts.

JANUARY

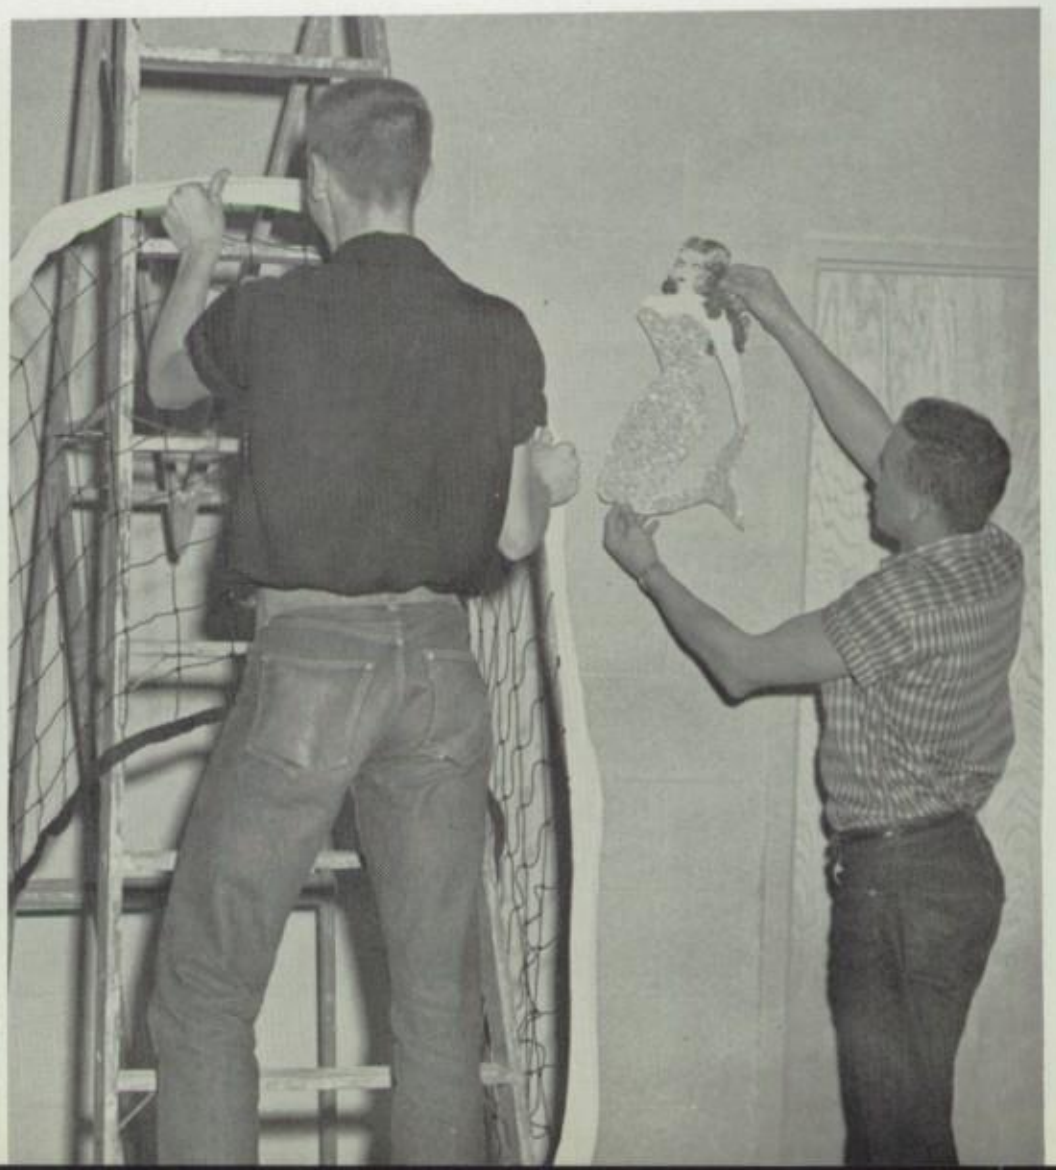
King and Queen Howl and their court were presented in a "Winter Wonderland" of floating clouds and shining stars. The court then retired to review the royal entertainment. The Royal Jokers were encored many times for their outstanding performance. The cheerleaders, in the form of snowflakes, danced and sang in their traditional way. Next on the program came Baker's Bells who gave their own rendition of "Dream" and "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes." The new Quill and Scroll members were presented and given their gold pins and membership cards.

FEBRUARY

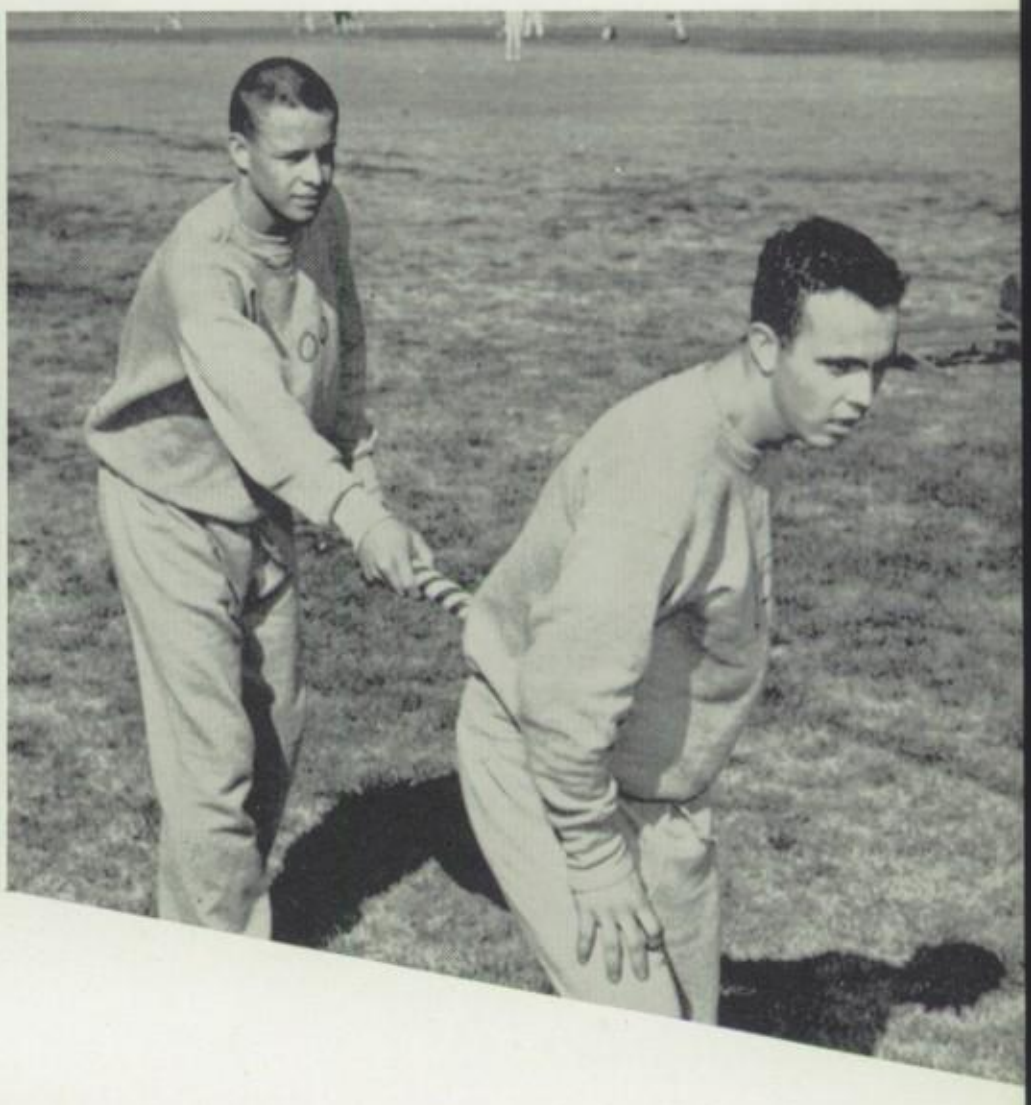
February was the month of numerous basketball games. It ended the Wolves' most successful season. The Wolves had that extra effort that made it the great team that it was. The 1958 Wolves proved to be one of the best teams in many years.

MARCH

March was highlighted by the Junior-Senior banquet, held March 15, in the Primary Cafeteria, in honor of the Seniors of 1959. An underwater theme was carried out, emphasized by green lighting with blue and green walls and tables. Tables arranged in the shape of an anchor were centered with fish bowls and sea shells, and colorful tropical fish all about added to the effect. Sophomore girls entertained with a mermaids' dance against a background of an old sunken Spanish galleon. Sophomore boys, dressed as pirates, served at the banquet, "Sea Fantasy."



APRIL



The Colorado High Track Team entered many events in meets held in Fort Stockton, Brady, Snyder, Kermit, and Lubbock.

The events that were most outstanding at these meets were: the sprint relay, mile relay, open quarter, 100 yard dash, and hurdles.

MAY

Boarding the Greyhounds for the Flying L Dude Ranch are eager horseback riders, swimmers, and "nature lovers." They arrived May 10 for a three day stay in Bandera. Returning home, the seniors made stops at San Marcus and Austin.

Seniors finish their 12 years of school with the last final exams. About 65 graduated on May 23. The Baccalaureate Service was on Sunday, May 18.

Live for Colorado;

Fight for colors true.

Floating high above us,

Red and Black,

We will promise

To ever honor you,

Loyal and together,

We our best must do.

Live for Colorado;

She lives for you.
